GINEX is an international Internet exchange of gaming facilities enabling the gamers (users) and vendors (game manufacturers) to sell on the global market their gaming products, accounts, currencies and bonuses. The convenience and functionality are the basis of GINEX. The vendors' simple access to the market, the easy entry and withdrawal of moneys, convenient purchasing, safe transactions and reliable account protection, a vast number of gaming systems and multiple language support, such are by far incomplete merits of the proposed system. GINEX will become the first international exchange supplying the gaming facilities and currencies as commodities that form the basis of market relations between the users and the vendors.

3. The formula for calculating GNX token distribution for bounty program participants is as follows: 5% of all issued tokens [divide by] total number of registered users by referral links of all participants of this bounty program [multiply by] number of registered users by referral link a particular participant of this bounty program.

Example:

For example – if total amount of issued tokens is 10 000 000 then the entire bounty program token pool is 500 000.

Let's assume that the total number of registered users is 10 000, 500 of which were earned by our particular user.

In this case, a week after the completion of the ICO, our user will receive 25 000 GNX Tokens on his ETH wallet.
